Panel: Maintaining continuity throughout pregnancy when you are not the OB.

Describe the problem, or gap in practice or knowledge you are addressing; and what the learner can expect to take away from this education.: Family Medicine is a specialty defined by continuity and care across the lifespan. For about half of our patients this continuity will transform during their lifetime. This panel will look at ways to maintain continuity specifically for pregnant patients when the physician is not the obstetrician. Panelists will explore ways to keep pregnant patients connected to their practice as a way to maintain physician satisfaction and provide a safety net for patients in maternity care deserts.

Provide a description regarding how this education has a direct bearing on patient care, or how it supports the physician's role in patient care, or how it has a direct bearing on a physician's ability to deliver patient care.: Continuity may seem intuitive to the Family Physician. In this panel clinicians will share strategies they use in real practices to maintain continuity across different domains. Questions will focus on managerial continuity- how they provide interdisciplinary care in a team; Family continuity- how they keep the newest family members of pregnant patients in the practice, and longitudinal continuity- how they continue care for life's everyday occurrences, and fill the gap when care is a long distance from home while their patient is pregnant.
